

(Gary P. Carter)

Passeridae the OLD WORLD SPARROWS

A single species of this Eurasian family of 42 species of birds is found breeding throughout the United States. It is most commonly known as the “English” or “House” Sparrow. It is not native to North America.